

Hundreds of Coldtainer mobile refrigerated containers daily used by AAH UK for the delivery of TTSP

AAH is the largest community pharmacy network in the UK and a part of the leading McKesson Corporation.

Delivering over 15 million items per week to more than 14,000 pharmacies and other organisations, AAH is the largest pharmaceutical wholesaler within the UK and operate from 16 modern distribution centres.

For over 10 years AAH UK has relied on Euroengel's mobile refrigerators to daily deliver vaccines and other TTSP (time and temperature sensitive pharmaceutical products) all around the United Kingdom in every ambient condition.

More than 400 Coldtainer® mobile refrigerators of Euroengel are today daily used by AAH on board of its fleet of vans.

The Coldtainer® models used by AAH are the T0082/FDH top loader and the F0140/NDH and F0330/NDH front opening. All units were ordered by AAH with automatic cooling/heating system, so to grant a stable internal temperature for the transported sensitive products in every ambient condition, from hot summers to very cold North of Scotland winters.

The Coldtainer® 12V mobile refrigerators with their outstanding quality, performances and durability are the perfect solution for the needs of pharmaceutical logistic companies around the world.

easy cooling, smart moving